Foreword

Dear colleagues, associates and friends,

A comprehensive who's-who and an inevitable outlet for promoting both Croatia and the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies (UHPA), the UHPA Directory has become a well-known international staple for travel professionals looking for sector go-to contacts in Croatia. I am delighted to share with you its 24th edition.

Trimmed with the sleekest destinations and full of user-friendly stats, the pages ahead highlight and bring together the best of the Croatian tourism industry. UHPA's greatest asset – our vast body of members, no matter their size, segment or niche, know Croatia better than anyone else and shoulder the kind of turn-over we are proud to describe as 'responsible' or 'sustainable' tourism. Relying on their support and know-how, UHPA manages to sustain the highest trade standards in pursuit of building Croatian tourism the right way.

Globally, crafting travel arrangements and pursuing recovery after the pandemic in circumstances of looming inflation and fickle supply, has been agonizing for travel organizers. Yet, we continue to adapt because we understand the human need to connect better than anyone. At the same time, our dedication to re-building an industry of the future pushes us forward, day in and day out.

Our members craft an enviable number of services and products into unique experiences by combining our country's exceptional diversity with the interests of well-meaning individuals for its rich history, culture, and abundant natural beauty. As such, we remain master travel artisans and UHPA will continue to look for ways to build bridges and form new partnerships. It is our understanding of human nature and a trade prerogative – to connect and to rebuild.

As such, UHPA will continue to focus on promoting innovation and on building a more resilient and sustainable tourism, relying on individual strengths coming together as one to bring about a better tomorrow globally. I would like to use this opportunity to thank Croatia's Ministry of Tourism and Sport and the Croatian National Tourist Board for their continued support and for recognizing the significance of travel agents and touroperators for developing tourism responsibly.

I sincerely hope this edition of our UHPA Directory brings you a little closer to our country and to working with Croats, your trusted travel artisans. We wish you all peace, good health and a world of success in the coming year!

A STAR ALLIANCE MEMBER

Foreword

Dear colleagues from the travel and tourism industry,

It is my pleasure to greet you on behalf of the Croatian Ministry of Tourism and Sport in the 24th edition of the UHPA Directory.

In 2023, Croatia has finalized important European integration processes by joining the Schengen and euro area. This removed currency exchange costs and simplified travel to Croatia, making it an even closer destination for tourists from Europe and all around the world.

The first Croatian Tourism Act will enter into force next year, providing a legislative framework for managing tourism in the direction of sustainability.

We have also secured funding to support the strategic goals of sustainable tourism: grants for public and private investments through the Recovery and Resilience Plan and additional funding from the current European Multiannual Financial Framework. Investments in Croatian tourism are geared towards the digital and green transition, as well as improving the quality of accommodation and attractions, focused on health and active tourism and other special forms of tourism which can attract guests throughout the year.

We greatly appreciate our partnership with tour operators and travel agencies, whose expertise and enthusiasm in presenting comprehensive packages to showcase the best of Croatia are important elements in building a more sustainable model of tourism.

Together we will continue to build the success story of Croatian tourism, based on preservation and valorisation of our beautiful nature and rich historical and cultural heritage, authentic atmosphere, locally grown food, gastronomy and wines.

I look forward to continuing our excellent cooperation.

Nikolina Brnjac, Ph.D.

Foreword

Dear readers, colleagues and tourism workers,

It is with great pleasure that I greet you in front of the Croatian National Tourist Board on the occasion of the 24th edition of the UHPA Directory.

In recent years, we have witnessed global changes that had a significant impact on the tourism sector, but even in such circumstances, Croatia has successfully maintained its competitive position on the international tourism market. This is underpinned by the results to date, from the beginning of the year to August 20, almost 15 million arrivals and 78.6 million overnight stays were achieved, which compared to last year, represents an increase in traffic of 8 percent in arrivals and 2 percent in overnight stays. We are also very satisfied with the achieved revenues, which the Croatian National Bank estimates will be 1.3 billion euros more this year than in 2022, when the revenues were around 13 billion euros.

This year in tourism can be described as the year in which we had the historically best pre-season, during the peak season we successfully maintained last year's traffic levels, while in the post-season, which is just ahead of us, we have an excellent opportunity to further consolidate the results achieved so far. With that, we can maintain the high ranking of our country among numerous travel enthusiasts with a special emphasis on European markets. Namely, let me remind you that this year our country entered the Schengen area and that we have introduced the Euro as the official currency of payment, and these two components make our country even more interesting and accessible as a destination for the realization of shorter weekend trips, i.e., trips throughout the year.

We can agree that for the past few years Croatia has continuously proven its quality and uniqueness by attracting numerous visitors from all over the world with not only its beautiful coast, undiscovered continental destinations, rich cultural and historical heritage, preserved natural beauty, but also with the quality of service provided by Croatian tourism workers who are widely recognized as friendly hosts and top professionals.

Keeping this in mind, we must highlight the role and importance of travel agencies through which more than 4 million arrivals and almost 19 million overnight stays in our country through August 20 were realized, which compared to the same period last year, represents a growth of 12 percent in arrivals and 3 percent in overnight stays. Travel agencies are one of the most important tourism stakeholders because through their activities, agencies significantly influence the creation of new offers, product development, but also the promotion of Croatian destinations.

Therefore, I invite you all to continue this very successful cooperation, which will be the best response to all current challenges, but also the best direction in the further development of Croatian tourism. Positioning Croatia as a sustainable and authentic destination of high value must be a priority in the coming period, and the cooperation and engagement of the entire sector is a basic prerequisite for achieving this goal.

About UHPA

Representing Travel Agents and Tour Operators for over 30 years

Founded in 1992, UHPA - or the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies, has grown to become one of Croatia's leading and most influential trade associations, representing the professional interests of travel agents, tour operators and other tourism and business service providers.

For over 30 years, UHPA has remained true to the mission and vision outlined by its founding members.

Today, UHPA members, over 210 travel agencies, tour and online operators, intermediaries and wholesalers, shoulder a significant share of the overall tourism turnover in Croatia. UHPA also represents over 90 associated members hailing from the hospitality industry, transportation companies, tourist boards, associations, attractions, educational institutions and various other tourism suppliers.

Internationally, UHPA also stands for member interests, aligning itself with the world's most prominent tourism organizations and industry associations. UHPA is a member of ECTAA and nurtures long-standing reciprocal relationships with the most powerful European and non-European associations of travel agencies and tour operators such as ABTTA, ACTA, AČCKA, ANVR, ASR, ASTA, ATTA, APAVT, JATA, MUISZ, SACKA, SMAL, SRF, YUTA and ZTAS.

UHPA has initiated and implemented, independently or in partnership with various professional associations in Great Britain, the Netherlands, Germany, Portugal, Finland, Poland, Greece, Latvia, Bulgaria, Italy, Belgium, Montenegro, Slovenia and Croatia, a number of projects aimed at developing corporate social responsibility, innovative tourism products, strengthening competences, enhancing service and business operation quality and the competitiveness of its members.

UHPA actively participated in drafting Croatia's Strategy for the Sustainable Development of Tourism 2030. We continue to work closely with the Croatian Ministry of Tourism and Sport and the Croatian National Tourist Board on various other projects too. Our collaborations aim to increase the number of organized visits and overnight stays in the pre and post-season through the development of special interest market offers and the operation of destination management companies. These endeavours also make a point of promoting sustainable business models and the improvement of service quality. Additionally, UHPA obligates its members to a strict Code of Ethics, fulfilling its mission to contribute to the responsible development of Croatian tourism and ensuring Croatian travel agencies and tour operators have that competitive edge.

Following the COVID health crisis and travel slow-down, with an unceasing global conflict and relentless economic insecurity, travel agents continue to operate under the pressure of uncertainty – of changing protocols, wavering supply chain dynamics and rising operational costs. In an effort to alleviate some of these strains, as an association with a long tradition of advocating for Croatian tourism, UHPA has been instrumental in providing support to members and in bolstering sustainability as a means of dealing not just with the on-going crisis but with the imminent threat of climate change to our industry and planet too.

As we have seen, travel agents and tour operators are essential to tourism flows. Being the first in line to communicate with end-users, they hold the keys to building consumer confidence in a way that reduces the negative impacts of tourism on the environment and helps local communities grow. We at UHPA are strongly committed to supporting our members in developing both their operating standards and the resiliency to withstand any obstacle. In doing so, UHPA contributes to building the overall quality of Croatian tourism and the strength of the country's economy.

After firmly defending the travel agent and tour operator trade for over 30 years, UHPA continues to support tourism progress and maintain its position, relevance and strength as a trade association. The UHPA office, with its six employees and a large number of external associates, is committed to fulfilling the association's mission and vision. We believe our activities shape the service quality of tourism products and contribute to the professional success of our members.

Despite changing industry dynamics, running on live, human contact and interaction, tourism undoubtedly has a bright, global future. UHPA is here for it.

It is with confidence that we therefore invite you to choose one of our active or associated members as your trusted business partners in Croatia.

UHPA Activities

Travel agencies and tour operators in Croatia have come such a long way since Croatia's first travel bureau opened its doors in Zagreb, exactly a hundred years ago. As their professional association, for the last thirty years, through a number of different initiatives, UHPA has sharpened the focus of travel agencies in Croatia on building sustainable operations, positioning special interest tourism products and implementing quality management procedures. In retrospect, focused on building value, over the years, UHPA has seen the trade expand and evolve with every industry shift, segment dynamic and uncertainty.

To UHPA pushing for quality over quantity always made sense

The challenges facing travel agents and tour operators now only underline the importance of those elementary convictions, of that vision. Always with an eye on the latest industry trends, UHPA has worked to enhance member capacities by organising conferences, workshops and training programs, principally with the support of the Croatian Ministry of Tourism and Sport and the Croatian National Tourist Board, but also independently through national and EU-level tenders.

Recognizing that UHPA members, Croatia's top tour operators and travel agents, are directly involved in creating, managing and developing Croatia's tourism offer, our projects have, without exception, been dedicated to promoting service excellence and reliability. Upholding professionalism on all fronts – particularly in motivating travel sector personnel to attain additional qualifications, learn new skills and share best practices, plays into this ceaseless mission. Having adopted the UNWTO Global Code of Ethics in 2014, UHPA has committed its time and energy to the highest standards of corporate social responsibility with the aim of promoting sustainable tourism, with emphasis on the protection of human and labour rights, the environment and on limiting corruption.

In project terms, over the years our project activities have placed emphasis on: developing new tourism products (DMC support programs), on curbing seasonality (special interest tourism development, segment dedicated and cross-border), on promoting corporate social responsibility (sustainability practices, social entrepreneurship, voluntourism initiatives, the Travelife scheme), on quality management (multi-site ISO certification), on the importance of social dialogue and networking (bringing together Croatia's tourism trade associations)...

Our efforts add up to 15 successfully implemented projects on a wide variety of topics and just as many instrumental partnerships. You could describe us as a team of seasoned project professionals interested in pursuing new ideas and on – above all, building on decades of indispensable value.

If the last hundred years are any indication of what lays ahead for our trade, the future is bright and exciting and UHPA is here for it. Let's welcome it together.

The Heart of Adriatic

Project Introduction

A project co-financed by the European Commission under the COSME programme (Programme for the Competitiveness of Small and Medium Enterprises), SUSTOUR aimed to foster the capacities and skills of 175+ travel agents and tour operators (SME's) to integrate sustainability principles within their companies and supply chains. It did so by providing support through training, management systems, standards and solutions, which improved their sustainable management and performance and helped to open up new market opportunities.

The most important objective of the SUSTOUR project was to develop and/or update existing standards and training tools to effectively implement, remotely and in person, sustainability within tour operator operations and in their supply chain. The key focus area of the project was the management of carbon emissions and plastic waste, where there is a considerable impact on the environment from the travel sector. Specific tools were developed for the carbon management of (shore) excursions. Moreover, the project provided free technical support to travel agents and tour operators (SME's) interested in improving their sustainability performance.

Project Objectives and Activities

1. To update existing standards, training and (online) implementation tools to effectively implement sustainability within tour operators and their supply chain. A group of 45 advisors and auditors from 12 different countries will be trained and certified.
2. To develop standards, trainings, tools, and criteria to reduce and better manage carbon and plastics, two of the key environmental impacts of the travel sector. Specific tools will be developed for the carbon management of (shore) excursions.
3. To engage and build capacities of a critical number of SME tour operators through a blended training approach (classroom training, online, webinar, video seminars). 175+ SME's will be selected to benefit from the wider direct financial support programme.
4. To coach 120 tour operators towards complying with 100+ best practices through onsite, group and distance coaching. Companies will develop detailed sustainability reports.
5. To evaluate and certify tour operators independently based on international standards. As a result, it is expected that 120 tour operators will obtain the basic Travelife Partner award and 60 tour operators will receive the Travelife Certified award, of which at least 10+ EMAS registrations.
6. To develop and implement a methodology and online tool for the sustainability certification of excursions by involving excursion suppliers including (local) transport, activities (e.g. boating, diving, city tours), food and guiding services. They will be implemented in practice among 150+ excursions involving the assessment of 2.000 tour operator suppliers.
7. To create market linkages and related financial benefits for the supported SME's and to disseminate the project results to the wider travel sector via the networks of project partners.
8. To facilitate an effective implementation of SUSTOUR involving all project partners and external stakeholders leading to the planned impact, outcome and output of the SUSTOUR project and to report in detail on the results and impact of the financial support provided.

Project Results

Over the course of three years, the SUSTOUR support programme helped 500+ participating SME's with training and coaching support to implement basic and/or advanced sustainability measures in their companies and become awarded by Travelife, the internationally leading sustainability certification scheme for tour operators and travel agents, including eleven SME's from Croatia.

The Travelife Partner award acknowledges tour operators and travel agents for their commitment to basic sustainability standards. This entails that Travelife Partner awarded companies have developed the necessary framework, implemented basic sustainability practices and planned actions to continually improve their performance. The SUSTOUR project succeeded in surpassing the initial target of 100+ online audited and awarded companies by more than double. A total of 228 tour operators and travel agents achieved the Travelife Partner award (or Sustainable Travel Ireland Intermediate membership) with some of them being in the final stages of achieving the award.

Travelife Certified is the highest level of recognition for a company's excellence in sustainability. It entails compliance with 220 internationally recognized sustainability criteria that are in accordance with the GSTC (Global Sustainable Tourism Council) and EMAS (European Eco Management and Audit Scheme). To achieve Travelife Certified, a company needs to pass desk audits by Travelife staff as well as an onsite audit conducted by an independent and licensed third-party auditor. The SUSTOUR target of 60+ audited and certified companies was reached with 60 tour operators and travel agents reaching Travelife Certified status.

In the course of the SUSTOUR project, the project consortium organized several Travelife Award ceremonies for the participating companies - at MATKA Finland, BTL Portugal and at ITB Berlin. The final Travelife Award Ceremony was held during the final SUSTOUR event in Portugal.

Project Events

Association Study Tour Berlin

In addition to hosting a Travelife award ceremony, ITB Berlin was the perfect setting for presenting SUSTOUR's new, specially developed tools for achieving greater sustainability in managing carbon emissions and plastic waste reduction among tour operators.

The representatives of the SUSTOUR consortium and the European Commission listened in together with interested travel agencies and tour operators, both from Europe and the world, as sustainability management models were discussed at the event. Peter Henkes, a Dutch sustainability expert, presented the activities of the SUSTOUR support programme for excursion certification; Tatjana Peter (Futouris) referred to the issue of plastic waste in tourism; Naut Kusters (ECEAT) presented the scope of the supply chain management programme, through both the SUSTOUR project and as part of Travelife's activities in Thailand; Dominique van Straaten from the consulting company Sea Going Green summarized the content of the SUSTOUR training on carbon emissions management and improvements to the CARMACAL tool for calculating the carbon footprint of travel; Anne de Jong (ECEAT) addressed the pitfalls of sustainability marketing in tourism as a part of her presentation. After each presentation, the participants engaged in a discussion on the topics, speaking from their own experience and sharing examples of good practice from their countries.

The last day of the fair was reserved for the SUSTOUR Study Tour, i.e. for a guided tour of German organizations and companies promoting sustainability at ITB, and for the meeting of SUSTOUR project partners with Alan Vella, the Commission's project coordinator. Finally, the study tour was concluded with a visit to DRV (Deutscher Reiseverband), the German association of travel agencies, where the consortium was introduced to the DRV's initiatives on climate change and the protection of the environment.

Training: Sustainability for Shore Excursion Providers

As part of the SUSTOUR project, an educational workshop on sustainability in tourism for shore excursion tour operators and their suppliers was held at the Kompas Hotel in Dubrovnik, Croatia on June 2nd entitled "Sustainability for Shore Excursion Providers". The workshop was organized by UHPA, with the support of Croatian tour operators, Adriatic DMC d.o.o. and Elite Travel d.o.o. from Dubrovnik, participants of the SUSTOUR Shore excursion certification programme and members of UHPA.

Licensed tour guides, hospitality providers, transport providers, family run farms, wineries, activity providers, employees of Adriatic DMC d.o.o. and Elite Travel d.o.o. as well as representatives from the public sector, were acquainted with the Travelife system, the leading global, internationally recognized scheme of training, management and certification of tour operators. The participants were familiarized in detail with the Travelife criteria that specifically relate to their field of activity. Through group work and online exercises, they acquired the knowledge and skills that will enable them to implement sustainable management models and thereby make them recognizable and more competitive on the international market.

The training was provided by Naut Kusters, the managing director of Travelife for Tour Operators and one of the founders of the Global Council for Sustainable Tourism (GSCT).

Final SUSTOUR Conference

Under the slogan "Empowering European Tour Operators for Sustainable Futures", SUSTOUR celebrated its achievements over the three-year project span during a final event held on the 13th and 14th of September in Cascais, Portugal's first certified Green Destination. The conference was set up as a hybrid peer-to-peer learning event, during which 24 success stories of tour operators and travel agents were highlighted through five different panels – on carbon management, plastic waste management, excursion management, supply chain management and sustainability marketing. Each of the five sessions included an expert keynote and a moderated panel discussion showcasing selected success stories and achievements of participating SME's – among which Ventula Travel d.o.o. (Irena Škarica) and Adriatic DMC d.o.o. (Kim Butigan) were featured as best practice successes from Croatia.

The final conference was an opportunity to present the results of the project, celebrate the sustainability achievements of the participating tour operators and travel agents (SME's) and foster networking between them. Like previous events, the conference included the project's final award ceremony.

While it would have been a great opportunity to meet and network with all SUSTOUR companies at this final event, the decision of the project consortium had been to limit the event to a few exemplary speakers and provide live streaming for participation from a wider online audience. With reducing the carbon footprint of the event in mind, the event also encouraged participants to use public transport, to avoid single-use plastics and enjoy their meals at pre-selected, sustainable venues dedicated to avoiding food waste and to operating responsibly within their communities.

Croatian SME's in the SUSTOUR project

Of the eleven selected SME's participating in SUSTOUR from Croatia, seven completed their chosen support programmes and attained high recognitions. Six out of the seven are members of UHPA. The technical support offered a training, management and certification programme to support SME's towards Travelife certification (Travelife Partner or Travelife Certified) as well as a specialised programme open to companies who have already reached (basic) certification or wish to focus on certain sustainability aspects such as supply chain management, carbon management, plastic management and certification of shore excursions.

Žabac travel agency was founded in 2014, evolving its business activities in two directions. The first is the advancement of tourist transfer services. We have our own fleet of vehicles, which makes us competitive on the tourist transfers market. The second refers to market placement with a wide range of our own, custom services like trips and excursions for groups, schools, pilgrimages and parties across Croatia and abroad. We are proud of the many awards, accolades and plaques for our contribution to the development of the Neretva valley area. Branch office in Zagreb.

Croatia moving ahead - a new strategic cycle

This year the Croatian National Tourist Board finalized its new promotion strategy and marketing plan through 2027 and as such aims to position itself further as a premium, multi-segment, sustainable destination, offering a wide range of authentic quality tourism experiences.

Together with tourism partners and agents, it is important to continue to promote Croatia via referential travel media. Keeping in mind diverse traveller profiles, together we will work to develop superior quality experiences aimed at mindful travellers. It is important to preserve and foster unique Croatian customs and genuine local experiences, amongst others.

Over the past 30 years, Croatia has established itself as one of the top Mediterranean destinations reaching record-breaking visitor numbers in 2019 prior to the pandemic, with great resiliency shown over the past few years. We maintained tourist traffic and bounced back faster than our competitors. However, we need to focus on new goals and ensuring that Croatia remains top of mind, now that European tourist destinations have regained their foothold.

Looking at new strategic cycle, Croatia will continue to compete with 7 main competitive advantages:

- 2,000 km Adriatic coastline & 2,000+ secluded bays
- 1,000+ charming islands very close to the coast
- Extraordinary natural beauty
- Charming towns and villages
- Authentic wines & cuisine
- Rich and diverse cultural heritage
- Hospitable local communities

These are well known and already a part of our offer, but positioning each will be of utmost importance when creating travel packages and in turn the focus of our promotional activities moving forward.

When looking at Croatia and what we are best known for, we can highlight the following:

- The country is meeting point of great natural and cultural diversity over a small geographic area
- A beautiful and ecologically preserved country, with clean seas and over a thousand islands and islets
- A rich and preserved heritage from centuries past, with diverse cultural identities, traditions and customs
- A sporting, innovative and creative nation, with an attractive lifestyle

According to US News Best Countries Index, Croatia is ranked globally on 45th place and it stands relatively well in categories such as Adventure (26th place), Quality of Life (29th place), Social Purpose (27th place). However, it has a relatively weak international influence, and unrecognizable attributes outside of tourism.

The competitiveness of Croatia as a tourist destination, according to the tourism competitiveness index of the World Economic Forum - TTCI index, has improved by 9 places since 2011 and is in 27th place.

According to The Bloom Consulting Tourism Edition index, Croatia ranks 16th in the world and 9th in Europe in terms of the strength of its tourism brand.

Moving forward, more emphasis will be placed on how we communicate and relay the above to potential visitors. Why Croatia? Because we are both the past, present and future. We aim to share the best of our country with all that visit, as well as those that live here. From disconnecting to reconnecting, Croatia continues to be Full of Life as we redefine the future.

About Croatia

General information

Geographic position

Croatia occupies the largest part of the eastern coast of the Adriatic Sea which, as a part of the Mediterranean Sea, penetrates deep into the European continent. Croatia's shoreline and numerous islands fall within the majority of the Adriatic coastline. The narrow Dinara Mountain Range separates the country's Mediterranean region from its Central European continental part, which spans from the easterly edges of the Alps in the North-West to the shores of the Danube in the East, encompassing the southern part of the fertile Pannonian lowlands. Croatia became the 28th member of the European Union in 2013.

Surface area

The mainland covers an area of 56,594 km² and coastal waters cover a surface area of 31,479 km². The coastline is 6,278 km long, of which 4,398 km is made up of island coastlines, solitary rocks and reefs.

Population

Croatia has 3,871,833 inhabitants.

System of government

Croatia is a multi-party parliamentary republic.

Capital

With 767,131 inhabitants, Zagreb is the economic, transport, cultural and academic centre of the country.

Number of islands, islets, solitary rocks and reefs

Customs regulations

Croatia is a member of the European Union, meaning that Union citizens can travel to Croatia with no customs or tax restrictions when entering and exiting the country. Citizens of non-EU countries do not pay customs and VAT for personal luggage and items for personal use, as well as smaller gifts, of a reasonable value and amount.

There are certain limits, depending on the value of the goods or the manner of transport. For non-commercial goods in personal luggage, this means from 150.00 euro for passengers under 15 years of age, regardless of the manner of transport, and up to 430.00 euro per passenger in air and sea transport, or 300.00 euro in all other modes of transport. Detailed instructions and information can be found on the website of the Customs Administration at the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of Croatia www.carina.hr.

Health services

There are hospitals and clinics located in all larger towns and cities, while smaller settlements have dispensaries and pharmacies only. Foreign visitors who are covered by health insurance in their own country are not obliged to pay for emergency medical services during a private stay in the Republic of Croatia if a convention on Social Security has been signed between Croatia and the visitors' country of origin, i.e. if they have in their possession a certificate stipulated by such a convention confirming their right to health care. For further information, please contact Croatian Health Insurance Fund (HZZO). Compulsory health insurance Tel: 08007979 Supplementary health insurance Tel: 08007989 www.hzzo.hr

Bjelovar-Bilogora County

Cycling through Central Croatia

Look no further for motivation to visit the Bjelovar-Bilogora County on two wheels – its stunning greenery, quiet roads, cultural-historical heritage and mild climate make it an ideal cycling destination. Marked routes, gentle slopes and beautiful views invite you to explore, in pairs, in the company of friends or with your children who will conquer the rides with zero difficulty because routes run across small and scattered settlements connected by quiet roads.

Bjelovar-Bilogora County offers about 500 km of cycling routes, including the main County Route with about 200 km and the International Route (Lonjsko polje – Balaton) with 104 km, as well as several local routes.

Spectacular views and unforgettable experiences await cyclists on the untouched, wooded slopes of Bilogora and Moslavina

Marcel Medak
Director

While cycling along marked routes, don't worry about where to take a break because there are picnic areas and restaurants with traditional local food, well placed and shielded resting areas, bicycle repair service stations and smart benches all over. Our certified, local cycling guides will be happy to provide you with a guided tour of the county.

Proof of just how much this area has become a favourite among cyclists is a whole series of races and cycling festivals taking place here, of which the BILOgravel marathon on the slopes of Bilogora certainly deserves a mention.

Although all routes are clearly marked and show you where to go, we recommend giving your adventurous side a wakeup call – dare to explore a new path or road and discover a remarkable village, mysterious church or beautiful view, unlike anything you have ever experienced before.

Brod and Posavina County

*A paradise for cyclists, a challenge for hikers —
a new outdoor oasis*

Psunj and Dilj gora, once islands on the Pannonian Sea, now pose a real challenge for hikers, recreationists and nature lovers alike, all of whom are increasingly discovering the Brod-Posavina County. From the artificial lake Petnja to Dilj, a path leads through Pljuskara, a forest canyon with 17 million year old rock deposits, three cascading waterfalls and a cave whose ceiling is lined with million year old fossils.

Don't believe the stories about Slavonia being flat – head to the Brod-Posavina County and discover a new dimension of vacationing

The Ljeskove vode artificial lake near Čardak, the highest mountain peak, is an oasis for anglers, and the Ivica od jarca trail on its slopes is perfect for off-road quad biking.

On the southwestern slopes of Psunj, you will find the remains of a towering beech and oak tree rainforest. This nature reserve is suggestively called Muški bunar (Man's Well) with century-old trees and a natural spring. Located at 800 meters above sea level, it takes another two and a half hours to walk to the highest peak of Slavonia, the 984-meter-high Brezovo Polje.

Passionate adventurers will not miss the Adrenaline Forest challenge in the municipality of Bebrina, located next to the Sava fishponds and the protected Jelas polje area. Our destination also offers horseback riding, cycling along the swamps and pastures next to the Sava River, past the Sava meanders, the river's backwaters, archaeological sites, family farms, ranches and estates with a great eno-gastro offer.

Lika-Senj County

Nature at its finest

Located in central Croatia, Lika is bound by mountain ranges – to the west and down south by Velebit, on the east by Lička Plješivica and to the north by Gorski kotar. Located between the continental and coastal parts of Croatia, incredibly rich in history and culture, Lika is perfect for active holidays. Cycling is available across all of the area's destinations, while other outdoor activities depend on terrain conditions and the time of year but can include trekking, trail racing (mountain trail runs), hiking, climbing, cave exploring, bird watching, horse riding, skiing...

A visit to Lika is called for whatever the occasion, no matter the season. Lika is mystical and beautiful, preserved and wild, unique in how it embodies the elements: stone, wood, water, spring, river...

Ivan Radošević
Director

Stunning in size and beauty, Velebit with its numerous endemic species, is Croatia's highest mountain and home to two national parks, well worth the attention of hikers, no matter their competence. Several other imposing localities attract millions of visitors to Lika each year as well – on the north, the Plitvička jezera national park and on the south, the Paklenica national park. Finally, on its outskirts, the region provides an air of the Mediterranean – in Senj, Novalja and Karlobag. In short, nature at its finest.

Hop on an adventure of discovering Central Dalmatia's enchanting mountains, cycling routes and immaculate river canyons

The geographical specificities of the climate here make it suitable for various types of sports and outdoor activities. One of the more exciting sports to take up here is sailing – the ideal way to explore all the charms of island waters. As a region, we have already firmly positioned ourselves as a nautical destination with superbly equipped ports and strong accompanying infrastructure.

On the other hand, if you are a fan of beautiful panoramic scenery, the mountain massifs of Mosor, Kozjak and Biokovo and their idyllic wooded hiking trails should certainly be on your to-do list. The mild weather conditions of the area are ideal for those who like to take to exploring on two wheels. There are as many as 145 marked cycling paths that lead through picturesque landscapes and river valleys. True adventurers can't afford to miss the attractive landscape of the Cetina River Canyon, inviting you to unforgettable rafting, canyoning and zip line experiences.

One thing is for certain, the diversity of Central Dalmatia will make you active. Its doors are open to all nature lovers and active vacation enthusiasts, quiet beginners and experienced adventurers included.

Do It Yourself Tour

We often lose the significance of the term "do it yourself" in an age when our daily lives are growing increasingly dependent on ready-made products and artificial intelligence. This seven-day journey will allow tourists to learn about and enjoy northern Croatia's rich past, stunning scenery and exquisite delicacies along the way.

Instead of a shopping mall, the tour begins with a visit to the Krapina Neanderthal Museum, proceeds to Lobor and the sanctuary "Majka Božja Gorska", and concludes in medieval Trakošćan on the first day. We then proceed to a visit to Trakošćan castle and selected family estate in Brezova Gora; embracing the challenge for the daring: plowing with an old plough. On day three, we'll get you to Find your way! – a trip to Ravna Gora with, depending on the time of year, a short mushroom picking course and challenge for the daring: paragliding over Zagorje skies. Day four is a Craft day: knitting a logožar tote in Kamenica and producing pottery in Jerovac, as well as sampling the most authentic renditions of Zagorje štrukli and Purica z mlincima. Furthermore, the excursion brings us to Lepoglava and Varaždin, demonstrating everyday life in Croatia's Baroque capital; craftsmen and artisans. On the last day, our departure for Zagreb will reveal an alternative to fast fashion – a stop at the small school of making traditional linen clothing at KUD "Čiče" estate. You will then return to Zagreb and want to do it all by yourself again.

- The journey offers guests a glimpse into the traditional, as well as the contemporary, in arts and crafts of northern Croatia, integrating them with gastronomic and natural heritage experiences (cycling, paragliding on Ravna Gora).
- The program supports local lifestyle culture, creative tourism, and the type of travel that educates about the prospects of a more sustainable way of life by including short "do-it-yourself" seminars for tourists.
- The "Do It Yourself" tour will show how people used to deal with challenges: a world without electricity, supermarkets and YouTube.
- The program encourages various practical skills.
- Includes a collaboration with local artists and craftsmen.

The Forests, Lakes and Viewpoints of Gorski Kotar

Join our active tour through the green heart of Croatia along an authentic route surrounded by majestic nature and in the company of a local guide. We will introduce you to the natural beauty of Gorski Kotar by taking you on a hike through the Risnjak national park, the splendid valley of the Kupa River and the trails of the Golubinjak Forest. We won't miss the beauty of the Bajer and Lokve lakes, where you can take a moment's rest and enjoy the pristine nature and tranquillity. Our tour will continue to Delnice, the biggest settlement in Gorski Kotar, where you will get to delight in the local gastronomy but also enjoy the hiking and biking trails of the Petehovac Mountain and the protected forest of the Japlenki Vrh. The green heart of Croatia is special and unique any time of year.

Indulge in the beauty of this area – under snow, illuminated by the rays of the spring and summer sun or under the cover of yellow autumn leaves. Spend an active holiday far from the noise of the city crowds and enjoy a walk through the woods, in protected areas and national parks; enjoy the legends narrated by the guides and treat your taste buds to homegrown local products and the famous cuisine of this area.

- Exploring the hiking trails of Risnjak national park
- Learning about the protected areas of Gorski Kotar through an educational tour
- A blend of different experiences including gastronomic tasting
- Tasting the authentic local cuisine in line with the season
- Meeting local communities

Heritage in Hues: Croatian Artistic Voyage

Join our artistic journey guided by a local academic painter along an authentic route, avoiding overcrowded attractions.

Beginning in Zagreb, Croatia's lively capital, we'll try to capture the essence of urban metropolitan life. Heading south, we venture to Rastoke, a charming village adorned with historical water mills. Our next destination is Plitvice Lakes, where the view depends on the season. In spring, vibrant greenery dominates, while the fall tour unveils a blend of yellow, orange, and red hues framed by waterfalls and travertine lakes.

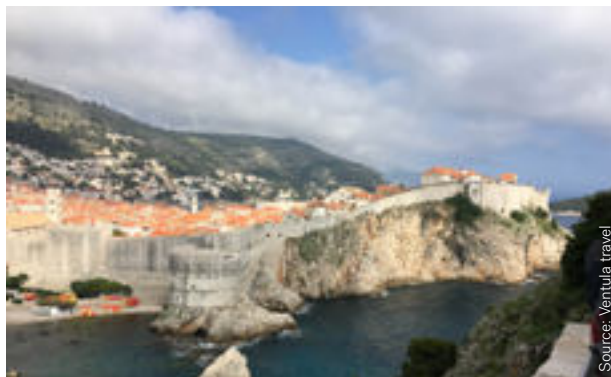

We continue towards Dalmatia, passing through deciduous forests with glimpses of the rugged Dalmatian karst. As we descend, the panorama of Dalmatia and its surrounding islands unfolds. In the coastal town of Šibenik, we embark on a gullet cruise, setting sail to Split. Here, we explore Emperor Diocletian's palace, a fusion of Roman, Early Medieval, and Gothic architecture - a painting "Mecca" that once inspired the renowned painter Emmanuel Vidović. Our voyage carries us through the islands of Brač, Hvar, and Korčula, each boasting authentic Mediterranean heritage and diverse landscapes. Continuing to Mljet Island, a forested oasis in the heart of the sea, you'll witness nature in its purest form. The final stop on our cruise is the Elaphite Islands, a unique archipelago guarding the entrance to Dubrovnik. Dubrovnik invites you to explore its impressive architecture and timeless tradition, from the Dubrovnik Walls to the Konavle Silk.

- Exploring and painting hidden corners in different settings.
- Educational painting workshops.
- A blend of coastal and inland experiences, featuring gastronomic, architectural, and cultural events.
- Hands-on work with various painting techniques in diverse environments.
- Engage with local culture, markets, artisans, and events.
- Collaborate with local artists and craftsmen.
- Share your artistic process with local communities.
- Document your journey through sketches and reflections.
